Rarin' to go to meet that atomic future so full of promise — or is it? Well, whether you are or not, it is there waiting for you and you had better be ready and willing. And don't say we didn't warn you!

It's later than you think!

Annie Staff Sets the Stage

We now present the seniors and adviser who set the stage of your destinies in this Anlibrum.

Of course we are all presided over by the Great Destiny Delineator herself, Miss Falls. Our chief soothsayers (editors to you) are Jeanne Hirsch, Eleanor Feuchter, Mary Stout and Martha Deeter.

The prophets of the layout are Bill Ploughe and Bob Edwards. Barbara Bauman is our copyreader. Information about the seniors is collected by oracles Ruby Busch, Phyllis Kummer, Jeanne Wilkins, and Mary L. Smith.

The picture editors (you know those seniors who go about the school disturbing classes) are Jeanne Hirsch, Eleanor Feuchter, Mary Stout, Martha Deeter, Dan Beerman, Milo Eiche, Bob Anderson, and Eleanor Stoller. These people are really psychic. They know what room each student is in and all about him. Bill Ploughe helps the photographer.

The club editors who indulge in crystal gazing are Ann Smithson, Rosalie Watkins, and Nelia Bentley. The typists of our forecastings are Marilyn Baker, Barbara Jackson, Liesa Holzman, and Carol Wilson. The astrologers who make sport predictions are Wilbur Doepke, Stan Slater, and Jack Kortokrax.

Milo Eiche, Bob Anderson, and Marilyn Kapp are the home room sales agents for our book of prophecy.

And now the curtain's going up on the 1947 Anlibrum.

And Raises the Curtain

It Says Here!
What price, Romeo?

Scoops
Ain't You Got No Shame?

Are You

One for the money. Now aren't you glad that you bought this Anlibrum? We knew you'd be. That's why we tried to make this a super-special yearbook.

Two for the show. The contents of this book are the things you see happening at Elmhurst. Everyday you see students in physics, chemistry, Latin, typing, and biology preparing for their future careers. (Time out for a visit to 19 with Mr. Eickhoff.) Are you thinking about your own date with destiny? The state of being "All Set" is an ever important factor in helping you to fulfill your ambition.

Three to get ready. Our faculty is constantly helping each individual in the problems he has in getting ready to take his place in the world.

And four to go. We think now that you've been sufficiently warned about what you will find in this book, it's safe to let you go on. Are you ready for your date with destiny? Are you set to face the world? If so, just flip the pages and you'll see what we mean.

Get ready — Get set — Go!

All Set?

Betty Parsley, Steve Klerner, and Nelia Bentley are getting set for their date with destiny.

"Loyal we'll be to you and
In our memory hold most dear

We now introduce to you our genial genius and principal, Mr. Haller. Maybe we should say generous instead of genial. He is very generous with his wit and other people's popcorn (proof—see page 24). Much of his time is devoted to the betterment of the students and the improvement of our school. Mr. Haller is also very fond of quoting. One of his favorite quotations is "Genius is one-tenth ability and nine-tenths hard work."

PAUL HALLER
Principal

A Date With Mr. Haller

Time—Any period

Place—The inner office

Reasons—Went hunting
Running in the hall
Getting F's
Absenteeism

Results—Jug seven days
The paddle
A red face
A lecture

Remembrance of happy days
Standards held high . . ."

On this page we introduce to you Mr. Bond, our new trustee. We have known him as deputy trustee, Waynedale fire chief, and substitute bus driver. His biggest date with destiny was on November 5 when he was elected Wayne Township Trustee. Best wishes and congratulations, Mr. Bond. A little bird told us that he helps us with our yearbook finances. That same little bird told us that he has many plans for our school.

Parting

Jane Achenbach—School Clerk . . . "If the elevator to success isn't working, take the stairway."

A. Delight Bobilya—Glee Club, Music Appreciation . . . "Alas for those who never sing, but die with all their music in them."

Dorothy Coughlin—English, History, Senior Class, Basketball . . . "I may disagree with you entirely, but I will defend your right to say it."

Lester Doell—Band, Instrumental . . . "Life is only as good as its poorest player. There must be individual quality in all."

Ural Edwards—Commerce, Commercial Club, Senior Class, Basketball . . . "Peck away!"

Charles Eickhoff—Math, History, German, Magazine Sales, Rifle Club, E Club, Basketball . . . "Never put off until tomorrow what you can do today."

Letha Falls—English, Latin, Anlibrum, Senior Class . . . "I'd rather break my arm than have my sense of humor out of joint."

Donald Fryback—Bookkeeping, Study Halls, Softball, Commercial Club, Junior Class . . . "A winner never quits, a quitter never wins."

Jeanette McClure—Girls' Phys. Ed., Safety, Health, G.A.A. . . . "Stand tall; be high in spirit and noble in deed."

Maurice Miller—Math, Physics, Freshman Class, Phi-Chem Club, Advance . . . "And another thing about telling the truth is that you don't have to remember what you've said."

Admonitions

Anita Oldham—English, Sophomore Class . . . "The door to success is labeled 'Push'."

Estella Perkins—English, Spanish, French, Freshman Class . . . "It's a long lane that has no turning."

N. Ray Reed—Shop, Basketball . . . "Rome wasn't built in a day."

George Roller—Government, Sociology, English, Sophomore Class, Basketball . . . "The mark of the human being is his ability to get along with people."

Thomas Sellers—Dramatics, Art, Speech, Junior Class, Basketball . . . "Speak the speech, I pray you!"

Leonora Simon—Biology, Home Economics, Cafeteria, Home Ec Club . . . "It's the little things that count."

Waveland Snider—History, Boys' Phys. Ed., Coach . . . "If you are right, anger is unnecessary; if you are wrong, you can't afford to become angry."

Mildred Spore—Librarian, English, Advance . . . "Think before you act."

Betty Van Fleit—History, Math, Basketball . . . "It isn't your looks; it's your winning ways."

Ruth Wimmer—Chemistry, Math, Safety, Health, Geography, Phi-Chem, Red Cross . . . "If you don't succeed at first, try, try again."

All Heads Will

We're Educated

The most omnipotent development of MCMXLVI indubitably was the prodigious Manhattan Project, culminating in the evolution of nuclear energy. The assiduous devotion of many of our perspicacious scientists virtually guaranteed that this endeavor would not end in fiasco. Sacrificing incommensurably for our salubrious felicity, those altruistic individuals sought not to jeopardize humanity, but rather, to stimulate its progress; consequently, they certainly are deserving of our approbation.

W. Walker

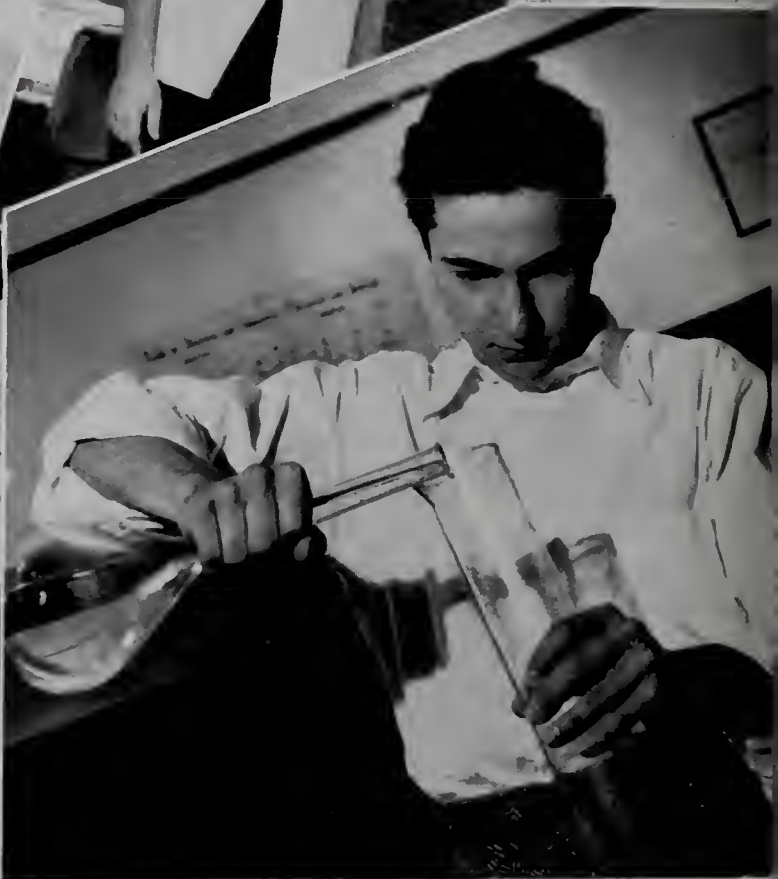

Turn Your Way!

Youse Gonna Be

The mostest mighty outcome of 1946 (Natch) was the great big Manhattan Project, resulting in the tossing about of energy, boom-boom, that is. The constant attention of our (keen to you, toots) test tube barons promised that this work would not end in fiasco (failure to you, kid). Giving without counting the cost for our healthy slap-happy state, those unselfish Joes and Jerks sought not to harm us hoo-mans but rather to pep up our steps forward. As 'tis they sure deserve our okay. How's about it, keed?

Our Happy Ending

The Seniors of 1947

We Fill

Senior Shake
Nov. 2, 1946

Opportunity knocks only once! As you enter the Atomic Age, take advantage of all the opportunities you can. The minute molecule, the infinitesimal electron, both will change our lives in ways undreamed of.

Your Date Book

Bill Crider and
Bob Baker

You, yourself, are a very reliable electronic device. You give out light so strong you shine like a star. Any minute now all sorts of wonderful things will be coming your way. Time's awastin'!

Business World, Here We Come

These Commercial Club officers busily at work give you only a glimpse of the effort put forth in this club. Not only the officers, but every member of the club strives for an education in commerce, fitting him for his destiny in this hurried, complex business world. Commercial subjects not only fit the members for their place in the world; but they also help in developing a complete, well-rounded personality, which is worth as much or even more than the knowledge of the commercial arts. For the first time in several years, the winners of the typing and shorthand awards receive pins in addition to certificates of merit.

Operation Crossroads - H_2S

In this third year A. B. (Atomic Bomb) the Phi-Chem club's aim is to increase interest in industrial chemistry and physics. To carry out this aim the club presented exhibits, like Bill Ploughe's and Webster Walker's miniature high frequency furnace which astounded the Indiana Junior Science Association. Jeanne Hirsch received honorary membership into the A. A. A. of S. for the best girl scientist in Indiana. The members have also rendered rather odorous experiments (as you may have noted!). Solidification of large masses of water acted as a depressant catalyst on social activities the first semester. However, these scientists had two activities the second semester. Time will tell when the Phi-Chem clubbers' date with destiny will be fulfilled.

They Wouldn't Take Any No's

The total of magazine sales goes up each year. The difference between the sales of 1946 and 1945 is $493. The total sales for Elmhurst in 1946 was $4,357.75. Room 11 and the home room secretaries really had to forget to count calories when they saw that quarter of a peach pie topped with three scoops of ice cream.

This year the Devil and the Devil's Den were sales indicators. The room with low sales for the day had each pupil put a penny in the Devil's Den; then the Devil's Den was taken to the high sale room while the Devil stayed in the low room to teach them a needed lesson.

The three high girl salesmen to receive nylons were: D. Buchanan, S. L. Meid, and V. Blake.

Mr. Eickhoff was assisted by home room secretaries: 14—E. Feuchter; 16—R. Busch and P. Kummer; 15—P. Scott; 13—M. Kapp; 12—M. Smith; 11—L. Hamilton; 9—B. Holloway; 6—K. McKeeman; 5—P. Porter; 4—L. A. Allen.

The final home room standings were:

Rank	Room	Per Capita	Gross Sales	Leading Salesmen
1	11	16.07	642.75	V. Blake
2	12	14.38	603.75	C. Ploughe
3	16	13.38	455.50	D. Hoeppner
4	6	12.50	388.25	B. Hamilton
5	15	11.51	817.75	P. Haag
6	4	10.78	377.50	D. Buchanan

It's News . . . And Good News

Of course we'll admit this issue pictured is a trifle old, but we keep all our good news for scoops. We journalists know our destiny — to record school life and school news for you and mum's the word until the Advance comes out. Miss Spore is the final copy checker. Mr. Miller sees that we balance our budget. Almost 80 Trojans work on the paper. Our work is climaxed by the annual banquet when E's are awarded to those who earn 1000 points. Each inch of copy is 6 points; 10 points per period for typing; 6 points per period for copyreading. Each departmental editor receives many points for his work at the end of the year. Some of the major positions are:

Editor-in-Chief	Chic Giffin
News Editor	Richard Monn
Assistant News Editor	Duwain Meyers
Chief Copyreader	Eleanor Stoller
Assistant Editorial Writer	Webster Walker
Feature Editor	R. Don Riley
Make Up Editor	Marilyn Baker

Reginae Domi of Our Time

Here are the Home Ec Club officers presiding over the plans for their annual spring banquet. They are not always so serious for they make their new members wear small jingling kitchen utensils like spoons, etc., on initiation day. Educational films about the home are shown to the members during the noon hour. They are very interesting, and some are in technicolor.

Girls who have been active members for four years are awarded a silver thimble. There are two "thimble girls" this year — Eleanor Feuchter and Marilyn Kapp.

Their destiny becomes them as reginae domi, queens of the home. They also wear bright E's when they have earned 360 points. Senior E's are: B. Bird, R. Busch, E. Feuchter, C. Gouty, D. Hoeppner, M. Kapp, C. Mathie, J. Offord, B. Somers, E. Stoller, M. Stout, B. Truelove.

Time Out For Dramatic Starlets

The aim of the dramatics class is to increase the enlightenment and refinement of taste acquired in intellectual and aesthetic training. (Intellectual refers to the mind, and aesthetic refers to appreciation of the beautiful. No wolves need apply.) To fulfill this aim, the starlets have been taught make-up, correct posture, and enunciation. The history of the theater from ancient Greece to television has been another of their studies. Charm, poise, and a more pleasing personality are among the results of this class. Some of these students may choose this field of art to enrich the world. What a date with destiny that will be! Mr. Sellers is behind the scenes; he has 38 starlets.

It's Tops For Size and Work

Yes, indeedy, the Red Crossers do good works. The penny line for the American Junior Red Cross forms to the right. A special committee makes holiday favors for veterans' trays. Some members earn letters by being hall monitors or messengers. (See Page 52.) The home-room agents take care of collecting the money for the annual Tuberculosis Drive. These agents are: 16, A. Smithson; 14, B. Edwards; 13, P. Wilkie; 12, K. Wood; 11, J. Engelman; 9, T. Langmeyer; 6, D. Kortokrax; 5, N. Meshberger; 4, L. A. Allen; 15, S. Giffin; 19, J. Overby.

Keep Trim The G.A.A. Way

This is the moment to set yourself up for more fun, more sports, and more experience. This is the best time in the world to put yourself under the exercises of G.A.A. that really do slim you, trim you, smooth you, and sooth you. We mean this is as good a time as any to join G.A.A. Our aim is to build a better understanding of sportsmanship and skill among the members through basketball, softball, volleyball and many other sports.
